Council Considers "Gobbel Plan" To Improve Town Administration

Detailed rules for Town Council operation, devised by Town Manager James T. Gobbel, are being considered by the present councilmen.

Introduced at Monday's regular meeting by Councilman Allen D. Morrison, the Gobbel plan contains an outline of functions, responsibilities, privileges and procedure of the Town Manager and other town officials in relation to Council.

Provision is made for the appointment by the mayor, at the first meeting after election, of five standing committees, composed of one councilman each: (1) General Government and Finance; (2) Public Works, Sanitation and Public Health; (3) Recreation, Education, Library and Social Service; (4) Public Safety; and (5) Public Improvement, Planning, Zoning and Building Codes.

Regular tours of inspection and familiarization withthe administrative departments concerned are among the duties attached to the committee appointments.

Public Meetings

The public nature of all council meetings is emphasized, giving citizens the right to be heard on any subjects being discussed by Council. Extraneous subjects may be brought up by citizens in the form of written or verbal petitions. However, to avert disorder, spectators (as well as council members) are forbidden to indulge in personalities or to create disturbances.

Mr. Gobbel, who first gave councilmen copies of the plan at the June 23 meeting, for study and consideration, expressed the hope that a new, detailed set of rules be passed before the September election, to act as a guide to incoming councilmen. In disagreement with this point Mayor Bauer said he believed the new council should form its own rules.

Study of the functioning of many town and city governments, according to Mr. Gobbel, was made as background for the plan.

North End Registration

Registration of Greenbelters in the north end of town will be held Saturday, August 9, at the home of Henry C. Pearlman, 4-C Laurel Hill, Town Clerk Winfield McCamey announced. Complaints from many citizens of that section led to a call for volunteers whose homes might be used for this purpose.

The number of registrations taken on August 9, according to Mrs. McCamey, will determine whether or not the practice is repeated in the future.

Committee Enarged

Action was taken, enlarging the Youth Center Advisory Committee to nine members. The two vacancies thus created were voted upon, and unanimously elected were Father Victor Dowgiallo and Rabbi Morris Sandhaus.

On a motion raised by Councilman Paul Dunbar, financed by Councilman Rogers, a toast was drunk (in cokes) to Mr. Rogers' new granddaughter.

Drop Inn Hosts To Meet Aug. 4

The monthly meeting of the hosts and hostesses for the Drop-Inn will be held next Monday, August 4, at 8 p. m. at the canteen. After the meeting there will be recreation for all—pool, cards, ping pong, dancing, and refreshments. Come and bring your wife or husband.

Doctor And Nurse Join GHA Staff

A doctor and a nurse are the latest additions to the staff of the Greenbelt Health Association, it is announced by Ruth Bowman, president of the Association's board of directors.

Dr. Joseph Berkenbilt arrived July 25 in Greenbelt, and began his duties as general practitioner and internist last Monday. A graduate of Northwestern University Medical School, he served his internship in Cook County Hospitay, chicago.

Dr. Berkenbilt was employed by the Veterans Administration from 1936 to 1943, practicing in neuropsychiatry, general medicine and surgery. Then he served as physician in the Civic Medical Center, Chicago, in the department of internal medicine. The latter situation was a prepaid medical plan.

The new doctor will reside at 13-S Ridge Road with his wife, a former social worker, and a school-age son and daughter.

New Nurse

A former first lieutenant Army nurse, who served overseas for 1½ years with the U. S. Army Airborne Troops General Hospital, is a recent addition to the Health Association's nursing staff. She is Mrs. Raymond Murphy of 8-D Laurel Hill Road, a registered nurse who received her degree at Marquette University in Milwaukee. She also took postgraduate training in general surgery.

She served overseas in England, France, and Germany, and it was there that she met her husband, at the wedding reception of her roommate, who incidentally was the first American girl to be married in Germany after the war.

Mrs. Murphy has a four-month-old son, Dennis Michael. Mr. Murphy is an insurance agent. The Murphys have been residents of Greenbelt since January.

Parade, Shows, Dancing, Prizes In GCS- Town-Sponsored Festival

Tomorrow's festival, which opens Greenbelt's tenth anniversary celebration, will last from 1 p. m. when the parade begins until 12:30 when the street dancing concludes. The festival committee, with Lucile Fonda as chairman, has organized a tremendous schedule of festivities, with the parade itself already over three-quarters of a mile long.

Besides fifteen local organizations, the parade will include bands, veterans' organizations, visitng fire departments, rescue squads, prominent leaders and guests of the community, and a large number of floats.

Parade Route

Motorized units and bands will begin the parade at Ridge Road and Eastway, and proceed along Ridge to Northway. There the parade will pick up part of the marching units and proceed down to Crescent Road along Hillside, picking up the rest of the marching units at Hillside and Northway, Hillside and Woodland Way, and Hillside and Crescent. The entire aggregation will then pass along Crescent, swinging in front of the reviewing stand on Crescent Road at the town center. As the units pass in review, the bands will play continuously.

The route has been chosen in order to save as much distance as possible for those walking, and yet give ample opportunity for all to view the procession. All along Crescent Road from Hillside to the center, the wide expanse of grass area along the road will afford a good vantage point. Residents are advised to be on hand early to see the entire parade along this route, starting at 1 p. m. promptly.

A route map of the parade was placed in the drugstore windows yesterday.

Surprise Pageant

Immediately after the parade the water pageant will begin, timed for 2:30 p. m. Gates will open at 2:15. For those unable to be accommodated inside the pool area, the hillside toward the center school will afford a good view.

The program for the water pageant has been kept a deep, dark secret so far. Ben Goldfaden, recreation director, who is in charge of the spectacle, has refused to divulge any details of the entertainment, and the only indication of his plans has been a mighty splashing in the pool and practicing in the auditorium. Whatever it is will have to be a surprise.

Afternoon Events

A baseball game is scheduled after the water pageant. Throughout the afternoon and early evening, pony rides and airplane swings for the youngsters will operation for a nominal charge at or near the center.

Starting at 5 p. m., the Greenbelt Fire Department will put on a sham fire and rescue exhibition in the plaza. Right after this, a full hour will be taken up by an exciting prize competition of fire trucks from neighboring towns. The arrangements committee promises "more spine-tingles than you get from Buck Rogers."

At 6:30 p. m., a sound system will be set up in the plaza to receive a special broadcast of FM music from WINX to Greenbelt. Also beginning at 6:30, a television show will be given over as much of the evening as broadcasting is available. Harvey Wharton and George Krouse have been working hard to make this show as interesting as possible, and if you've never seen television in action, here's your chance.

Prize Drawings

In the evening, the giving away of fifty valuable prizes (including a Bendix console radio, a pressure cooker, a vacuum cleaner, and a thirteen-dollar make-up kit) will take place along with a special act by the town tumblers, a four-act vaudeville presentation, a square dance exhibition in costume and a four-reel showing of children's movies in full color.

Several prominent guests and old friends of Greenbelt from 'way back will be introduced, and a short address given by Murray D. Lincoln, head of the Cooperative League of the United States of America.

Street Dancing

After the evening show is over, at 10:45, dancing in the streets to the music of two bands will keep the fun going. One band will play for square dancing in front of the post office, and another will play for social dancing outside the radio shop at the other end of the center.

Last but not least, refreshments of custard, hot dogs, punch, and other goodies will be served all afternoon and into the night at long lines of tables to be set up in the plaza.

Softball Triple-Header To Aid Damon Runyon Cancer Drive

Greenbelt will be host on Saturday, August 9, for a softball triple-header being held for the Damon Runyon Cancer Drive.

In the opening game at 7 p. m. on Braden Field two girls' teams, Garvins Grill and F.B.I., will meet. The Greenbelt Reps will take on the strong Webb Aircraft team from Alexandria, Virginia, in the second game at 8:15. In the feature game at 9:30, Thrifty Liquors, runner-up for the Washington championship last year, will meet Bethlehem Steel Corp. of Baltimor, runner-up for the Maryland Championship last year.

The Drop-Inn will have a group of girls to collect the contributions offered by the spectators, and all money raised will be turned over to Clark Griffith, chairman of the cancer drive in this area.

The softballs for the games will be donated by the Arena Sport Store, and the umpires from the District Softball Umpires Association will donate their services. The Town of Greenbelt will help out by giving the use of the lights and field.

Mesner Elected To GCS Board

Delbert Mesner was elected a director of Greenbelt Consumer Services at the regular board meeting last Friday. Mr. Mesner will serve until the February 1948 elections, replacing Bruce Bowman who resigned recently from the board.

Mr. Mesner has been active in the cooperative for several years, serving on the auditing committee and the education committee, and working on the stock drive in 1945.

He is treasurer of Group Health Association, Incorporated, the medical cooperative in Washington.

— Is You Is? Or Is You Ain't?

A point-blank question put by a Cooperator reporter to council members Monday night on their intentions to run for office again received the following answers, in order of reply:

Paul Dunbar: "Yes, I'll run again if I can get enough people to sign my petition." (An aside was interpolated at this point from John Cain to the effect that Mr. Dunbar's petition was signed, sealed and filed. Mr. Dunbar denied that it had been filed.)

Joseph Rogers: "Yes."

Mayor George Bauer: "No." (The direct quotation is necessarily brief, as the entire statement was too speedy for the reporter to take verbatim. However, the general sense of the remarks was that Mr. Bauer was wearied (or as he said, "fed up") with Council activities.)

John Cain: "No." (Additional remarks were made to the effect that an increase in councilmen's salaries to $1,000,000 a year would not affect his reply.)

Allen Morrison was not present at the time, and has not been reached as yet for a statement.

Town Clerk Winfield McCamy said this week that three aspirants had filed so far: Abraham Chasanow, David Granahan and James C. Smith.

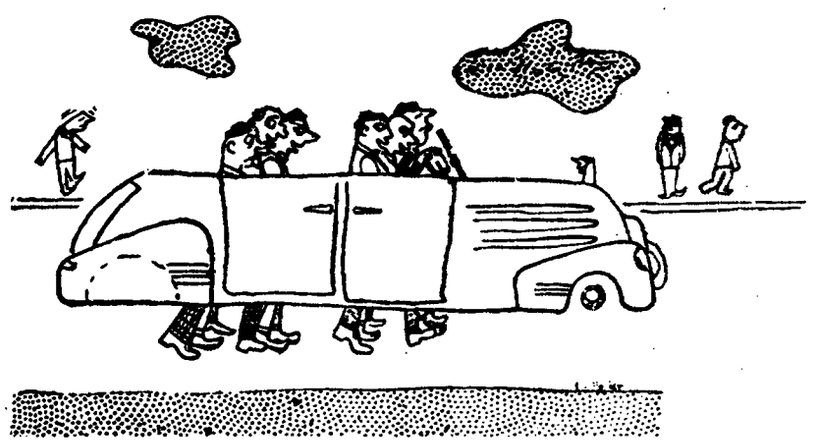

2 Quarts Missing

Will the person who found two large quart kettles at the lake, after the Fourth of July program, please return them to the Recreation Department? They were borrowed by the Drop-Inn for their concession stand, and unless found must be replaced, thus taking a considerable slice out of their profits from the affair.

Girl Scouts Notice

All Brownies and Girl Scouts are asked to be at the home of Mrs. Shirley Levine, 16-F Crescent Road, at 12:15 on Saturday, where they will assemble for the parade.

Cooperator Staff Up To Something

Signs of underground activity in town have been noted recently in the vicinity of 8 Parkway, where the Cooperator office is gradually taking on a new appearance. During the editor's absence, some enterprising staff members decided they were tired of looking at the same old surroundings week after week, and started to change things around. Details are not available at present, but visitors have spread rumors of a major upheavnl in the office arrangement, and there is even talk of a paint job.

Since the work of renovation, like that of putting out the paper, is all done by volunteer labor, the unveiling date is unpredictable. The office will not be open for inspection except during Tuesday night working hours, and any curious visitors are warned that there is plenty of help needed if they show up unexpectedly.

The original idea was to have the work completed in time for the festival, but part of the material needed to complete the changeover has not been obtainable up to now.

"Let's have a housewarming when we get through," suggested one grimy assistant last weekend. "Won't the editor be surprised!"

41,470 Lbs. Paper For Church Outing

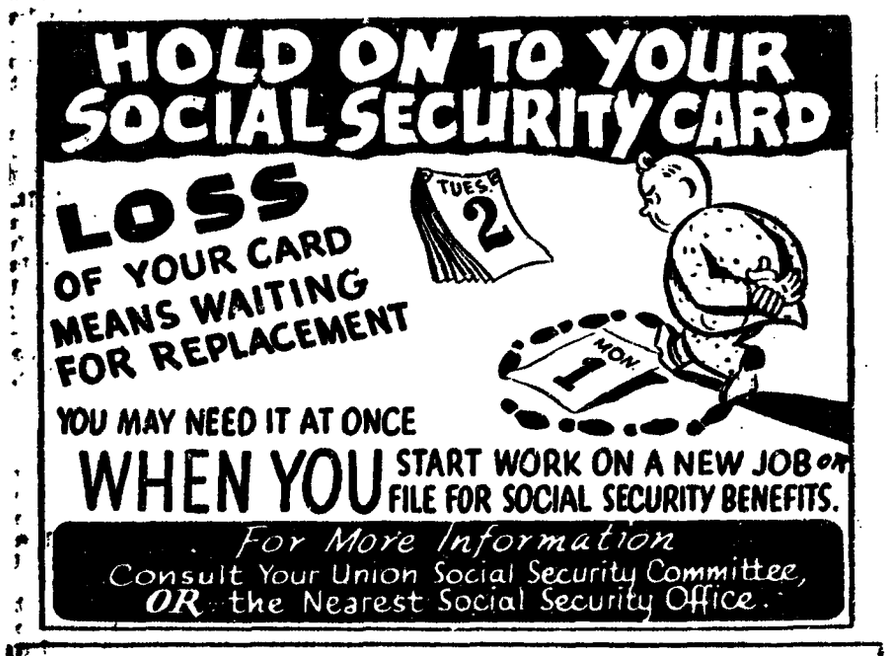

Final count on paper collections for the Community Church boat trip last Saturday was 41,470 pounds, according to Allen D. Morrison, chairman of the paper drive.

The trip on a Potomac River steamer to Marshall Hall, an amusement park down the river in Virginia, brought 417 passengers down to the 7th Street wharf for the all-day outing. The Greenbelt Band was honor guest of the occasion.

Brenon Preparing For Warm Springs

Jimmy Brenon, 11-year-old victim of last year's polio epidemic, is home for a few weeks, awaiting entrance to the Warm Springs, Georgia, sanitarium.

Permission has been given to Mrs. James E. Brenon, Jimmy's mother, to take him to the Greenbelt pool during the off-hour between noon and 1 p. m. for therapeutic swimming exercises. Inasmuch as Jimmy's period of infection was over last summer, no danger exists for other bathers using the pool.

FARM BUREAU

Comprehensive Personal Liability

The average person does not realize the grave legal liabilities to which they are daily exposed—nor the very low cost of insurance protection against such hazards. A person can be sued if their occasional maid or sitter is injured while doing their housework, if their child knocks a neighbor's eye out, if their golf ball injures a caddy, if their dog bites a neighbor, if their newsboy or postman trips over a wire or toy in the yard and is injured, if their child dives into the swimming pool and injures a bather, if their boy riding a bicycle runs into someone, if a visitor trips over a rug or falls down the steps, and for countless other reasons. Damage suits of these types have ruined the lifetime savings of many people.

Complete protection against such hazards is obtainable on a family-wide basis, under the form of insurance known as "Comprehensive Personal Liability" at the yearly rate of $10.00 for $10,000.00 protection or $13.50 for $50,000.00 protection, in addition to free immediate medical expenses at time of accident, free lawyer's services, payment of bonds, court costs and fees and all other legal expenses.

Safety First

To the Editor:

It seems that every edition of the Cooperator lately has an article dealing with regulations that are formulated for the tenants to follow, relative to the disposal of rubbish, etc.

We know that cleanliness is next to godliness, but why not give a little thought and effort to protecting the lives and limbs of the residents? Since the planners of Greenbelt made no provision for the lighting of the front doors of these homes, and since some of us live in the dark corners of town, it seems to me that something could, and should, be done to improve the lighting of these corners.

It is almost impossible for anyone calling at my home at night to find their way to the sidewalk without a flashlight or a seeing-eye dog, and I know that I am not alone in this situation. True, we have sidewalk lamps, but they are never in order. If it is impossible to keep them burning, why not replace them with something that can be maintained?

I am happy to read that the Town and the FPHA officials can cooperate, so splendidly, in the matter of rubbish disposal. Would it not be possible to have a little of the same cooperation in the matter of lighting?

EASTWAY RESIDENT

Home Permanents

To the Editor:

I noticed this sign in a beauty parlor and thought of the many women who are attempting to give themselves a beautiful permanent — which turns out to look a good deal like tar rope. Maybe, if you published it in the cooperator it would help.

"How To Give Yourself a Permanent.

Before: If you are employed, arrange to stay home for at least several days. Cancel all social engagements for the next two or three months. Get your belongings and papers in order in the event of a serious infection.

—After. Call your doctor. When the doctor finally discharges you, come to us. We can give you scalp treatments, which may get your hair in shape for another permanent in six months to a year. Or we can supply transformations."

This weekend the Shamrocks battle the Bamby Bread nine on Saturday at 3:30 p. m., and on Sunday the Sandy Spring baseball team.

Legion Juniors Continue To Win

The Greenbelt Legion Junior baseball team continued its winning streak last Sunday by defeating the strong Huntemann-Huff Post team from Mt. Rainier, 13-6.

Bob Scott, pitcher for Greenbelt, did his usual good job, allowing only six hits, striking out fourteen and giving four bases on balls. The locals jumped their opponents in the first inning for three runs, with four in the second to give them a nice lead. Scoring continued in the game to total thirteen. Heavy hitters were H. Randolph and Martone, who each had a triple. Other extra base hits were doubles by Hammond and Bauer. Harry Benefiel was the leading hitter, collecting three for the afternoon.

Feature of the occasion was the presentation of autographed baseballs by both teams to Jimmy Brenon, 60-A Crescent Road, a local boy who was a victim of polio last year. The presentation was made by Mayor George Bauer.

Saturday the Juniors played host to the Kensington team, defeating them 10 to 1. Pitcher was Ronnie Bierwagen, who turned in an excellent performance, allowing only two hits.

Greenbelt Leads Softball League

With 5 wins and no losses, the Reps are in first place. With their toughest game coming up against Thrifty Liquors, Manager Goldfaden has called a practice session just before the big game in an effort to have his boys ready.

On July 22, the Reps defeated the AAA 10 to 5 in the usual wild and wooly manner in which these two teams usually play against each other. Two nights later, against Judd & Detweiler, the Reps proceeded to garner 12 runs in five innings, led by Taylor, Spector and Goldfaden. The Printers had had enough and asked the game be shortened. The final score was Greenbelt 12, J & D 1. Judd & Detweiler was handicapped by not having a couple of its regulars around to start the game.

Thrifty Liquors got revenge for their earlier defeat by tripping Mt. Rainier 2 to 0, as Fred Kramer hurled 3-hit shut out ball. This defeat of Mt. Rainier enabled the Reps to take undisputed possession of first place.

D Block Winner Of League Half

John Huffman's D Block team won the first half of the Midget Softball League with four in a row. A and C Blocks tied for the runner-up spot with a two and two record. The second half began Thursday, July 31, with A vs. C and B vs. E. D Block drew a bye the first day of play.

First half standings:

	Won	Lost

First half winners will play the winners of the second half for the championship when a second half winner is declared.

C'mon Kids, Wear Shirts And Shoes!

The six hundred seats in the Greenbelt Theater are now in the process of undergoing a "face-lifting," and will soon boast new coverings of dark red leatherette with soft felted backs. Paul Linson, theater manager, added that the seats are also being tightened up and hinges adjusted.

The renovation, which started a few weeks ago and is being carried on during daytime hours, is expected to be completed by this weekend.

"We especially appeal to parents to suggest to the children that they help take good care of the seats while enjoying them," Mr. Linson said. "We went to a great deal of expense to add this new beauty and comfort feature. Also," he added, "it is suggested as a health and safety measure that children wear shirts and shoes while attending the movies, to avoid danger of possible skin infections."

Painting Progresses On Defense Homes

Good progress is being made on the exterior painting of Greenbelt's defense homes, according to FPHA manager Charles M. Cormack. The first and largest section Plateau Place and immediately adjacent courts has been completed, and crews are now working on the second largest section, in the vicinity of Hillside Road.

Administration crews are meanwhile working in advance of the painters, repairing gutters and roofs before the painters reach homes needing repairs.

In old Greenbelt, interiors of 5 or 6 houses in "D" block have been painted. Fifty homes are to be painted by contract in this area, according to Mr. Cormack.

Pick An Address And Park Your Fat

Used fats are being collected in Greenbelt for overseas soap. As announced in last week's Cooperator, cans for receiving donations of used fats are located at 3-D Ridge, 19-K Ridge, 37-J Ridge, and 71-H Ridge; 1-F Gardenway, 16-D Parkway, 7 Woodland Way, 4-C Plateau, 2-S Laurel Hill, and 2-C Research. There will be no receptacle available at 2-C Crescent during the absence of the Braunds.

Housewives are asked to note the address of the collector nearest them and to take their contributions there regularly.

The collection of clothing for shipment abroad is continuing, and any contributions may be taken to 7 Woodland Way.

Sports Stuff

By JOHN COSTA

A fishing trip can be a wonderful thing if everything turns out right, and here is an example of one that didn't turn out so hot, but it was enjoyed anyway.

Frank Frazzano of Greenbelt invited me along on his weekly excursion to Solomons. First we had to go over to Roy Gauzza's house in Washington to pick up a motor for the boat. Alas, Roy was not at home, nor was the motor (a good start); they were both in a car rambling around Washington. Frank took a chance, called the right number and we left in a dither as to when Roy would return to where his car was parked.

After a slight wait of an hour, the man finally arrived and was persuaded into going along with us. We transferred everything into Roy's car and took off for the Patuxent. Halfway down, I lost my hat out of the window, stopped the car, turned around, looked for the hat. Found my hat, turned around, took off again. Five miles from Paradise we have a blowout, but Frank and Roy were up to the situation and after a slight delay, we finally arrived at Solomons.

And what do you think we find churning up the usual placid waters? A motorboat regatta, going full blast. Trying to get a boat with all these extra tourists in town was another problem. Finally located an old salt who told us we could have his boat as soon as the races were over. Anything to set us off our schedule, which by this time was two hours behind anyway.

At last, we started off with our 1-cylinder put-put roaring away into the choppy channel and around the point. Past the Naval Base and finally roosting. Frank, being the expert fisherman in the crowd, was the first to strike, as a hardhead came swishing into the boat. After that there was a slight delay of two hours before we got another strike; this turned out to be a juicy eel. All of a sudden, Frank gets sick from an unknown source and Roy gets hungry, probably from the same source. So we decided to go in for awhile. After two cups of coffee, two crabcakes, and two dollars worth of slot machines, and with Frankie feeling better, off we went again on our quest for fish.

Well, to make a long fish story short, after five more hours on the bounding main with the score reading six hardheads, ten eels and ten toadfish, we pulled up anchor and slowly but surely headed the old craft toward its docking place. I, wanting to do my share, started to clean up the boat, picking up what I thought was a piece of paper, but which turned out to be a slimy, slippery eel with a fancy wiggle. I let out a yell that tumbled Solomons out of its peaceful snooze, jumped from one end of the boat to the other, almost knocked Roy into the water and generally upset the whole shebang.

This wonderful and exciting fishing trip started at 1 p. m. Saturday afternoon and ended at 5 a. m. Sunday morning. To call it anything else but an experience would be a downright falsehood.

Alert Resident Rescues Child

Heroine of her neighborhood was Mrs. Lee Fink for her alertness and quick action one recent Saturday afternoon at the Greenbelt pool.

While talking with a friend in the pool, she noticed 3½ year old Michael Henle, who was seated on the edge of the pool, accidentally fall into the 4 foot water. She immediately brought him out, choking, sputtering, and a very frightened child.

It was learned later that Michael with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Henle, of Parkfairfax, Virginia, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Achelman. Mrs. Henle stated that she saw Michael slip but could not get over to him [illegible]. She added that Michael is afraid of the water, and that he was terrified when he fell. "We are extremely grateful to Mrs. Fink," she said.

Mrs. Fink, who has been active on the Cooperator staff for several years, resides at 16 C Ridge Road with her husband Larry and young sons, Walter and Robert.

Watch That Glass

Patrons at the swimming pool are asked to be careful with bottles brought into the pool and, should breakage occur, notify one of the attendants immediately so that the glass can be removed. About a week ago a young girl was very seriously injured because a patron failed to report breaking a bottle of sun-tan lotion.

Customer suggestions and criticisms are welcomed in a co-op store. Consumer-owners are interested in improving their own business.

Washers Installed In Apartments

Greenbelt's apartment dwellers have the use of a new automatic Westinghouse washing machine, one in each apartment building, according to FPHA manager Charles M. Cormack. The machines have been installed and are operated by the Westinghouse company. Mr. Cormack commented that apartment users should be careful in using them, since they can be damaged by overloading.
